

Join our “Function Formulas and Data Calculations” class where you will learn how function formulas (predefined formulas) let you perform mathematical, statistical, and logical operations that go well beyond the standard referential formulae; that are crucial to seeing deeper into your numbers and data. Learn how function formulas work and how best to apply them in a wide range of business applications. Insert function formulas from categories like financial, chronological, mathematical, statistical, logical, database and referential. Combine (or nest) multiple functions to create dynamic calculative results. Learn the important roles relative and absolute formula referencing play in the calculation and operational processes.
